Global Consultancy Case Study

Bringing simplicity to the chaos of recruitment.

01 The Challenge

As a digital consultancy working with corporate partners to build various innovative ventures for their customers; they had a very fast pace work environment with customer deadlines and deliverables to meet.

Their highly reputable business, keeps high standards of code and therefore required both quality and speed in staffing engineers to various projects industry agnostic.

02 The Solution

Working together, we negotiated a feasible solution to support the volume of hires that they required cost efficiently.

Hiring Senior and above level freelancers who could hit the ground running to ramp up their builds to MVP phase and also provide a smooth handover/transition to the end customer before rolling off the project with (or after) the consultancy.

03 The Results

During our tenure with the global consultancy, we successfully hired over 50+ contractors across various ventures.

Helping them to quickly ramp up, and meet deliverables keeping their customers happy and saving them money in delayed projects as well as reputational value.

The contractors were in most cases, extended to work with their end client; to provide a smooth transition and allow the customers to keep some of the knowledge from the early phases.

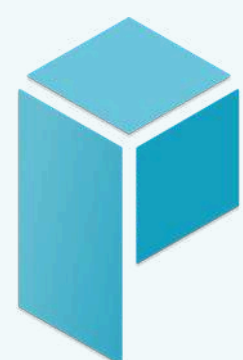

Our partnership grew to the level of 4:3 CV to hire ratio.

“ I worked with Peritus to Stand up Teams for several ventures we built. The roles were quite different from case to case, and Peritus was exceptionally quick to understand the requirements. They also gained a quick understanding of the team structure and dynamics to make sure not only to deliver the best individual profiles, but a great team. They are also well up to date with the latest technologies and industry trends. Peritus have strong communicators and are a pleasure to work with. For future ventures, Peritus will be among the first I reach out to find great talent
